

TRIDENT DASHBOARD

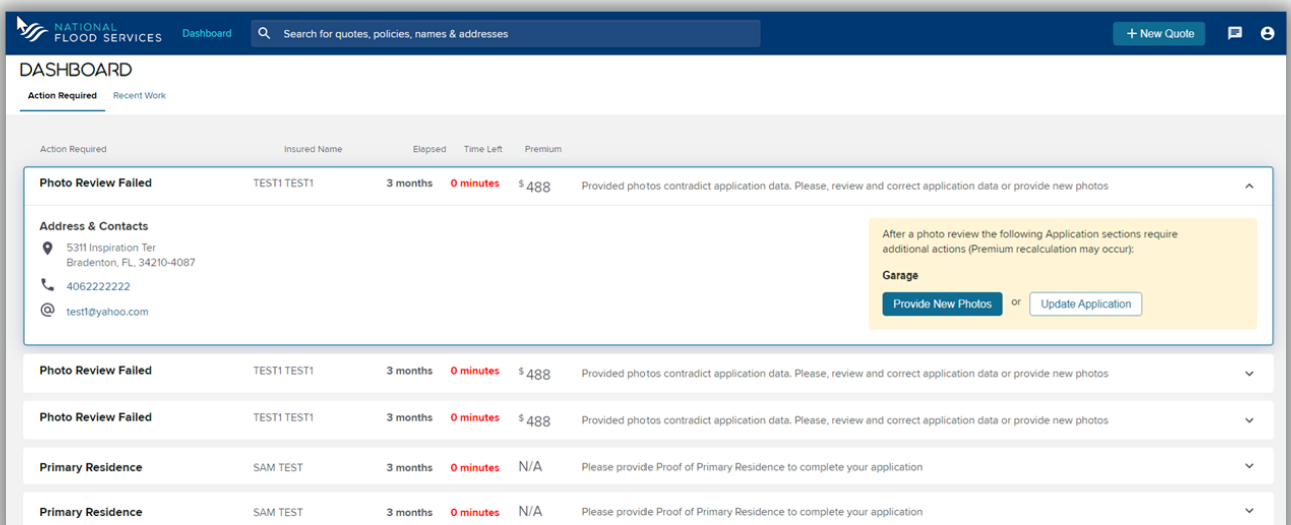

Manage your entire flood book from one convenient location!

When you login to Trident for the first time, the dashboard will be empty. As you begin to quote and submit policies in Trident, the dashboard will begin to display information for the activity completed in Trident. When it comes to servicing policies originating in FloodPro, NFS will continue to make those requests as we have in the past. For example, if you submitted a policy last week in FloodPro and underwriting needs a photo, that will not show up in the Dashboard. Instead you will still receive the request via email.

The dashboard is a snapshot of the flood insurance book of business in your agency. There are two tabs on the dashboard, the first is ACTION REQUIRED and the second is RECENT WORK.

The ACTION REQUIRED tab will display anything that needs completed in your agency. If you click on the entry, it will open up details of the action required. From the details you are able to upload any required documents and/or update the application. When a request is made, NFS will give you a timeframe for the request. The dashboard displays the time that is left and the elapsed time. Once the task is completed, it will be removed from your dashboard.
